FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS:

Certain statements in this filing contain "forward -looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 with respect to our financial condition, results of operation and business. These statements relate to analyses and other information, which are based on forecasts of future results and estimates of amounts not yet determinable. These statements also relate to our future prospects, developments and business strategies. These forward-looking statements are identified by their use of terms and phrases such as "anticipate," "believe," "could," "estimate," "expect," "intend," "may," "plan," "predict," "project," "will" and similar terms and phrases, including references to assumptions. These forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties, including current trend information, projections for deliveries, backlog and other trend estimates that may cause our actual future activities and results of operations to be materially different from those suggested or described in this financial discussion and analysis by management. These risks include: our ability to finance and successfully operate our retail businesses; our ability to accurately predict demand for our products; our ability to receive timely deliveries from vendors; our ability to raise cash to meet seasonal demands; our dependence on the retail and aerospace industries; our ability to maintain customer satisfaction and deliver products of quality; our ability to properly assess our competition; our ability to improve our operations to profitability status; our ability to liquidate non-core assets to meet cash needs; our ability to attract and retain highly qualified executive management; our ability to achieve and execute internal business plans; weather conditions in Europe during peak business season and on weekends; labor disputes; competition; foreign currency fluctuations; worldwide political instability and economic growth; military conflicts, including terrorist activities; infectious diseases; new legislation which may cause us to be required to fund our pension plan earlier than we had expected; and the impact of any economic downturns and inflation.

If one or more of these and other risks or uncertainties materialize, or if underlying assumptions prove incorrect, our actual results may vary materially from those expected, estimated or projected. Given these uncertainties, users of the information included in this report, including investors and prospective investors, are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such forward-looking statements. We do not intend to update the forward-looking statements included in this filing, even if new information, future events or other circumstances have made them incorrect or misleading.

FAIRCHILD REPORTS PRELIMINARY RESULTS FOR ITS FIRST QUARTER ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2006.

McLean, Virginia (March 30, 2007) - The Fairchild Corporation (NYSE: FA) reported today that revenues increased by $9.1 million, or 17.7%, in the three months ended December 31, 2006, as compared to the three months ended December 31, 2005. The improvement reflected a $4.3 million, or 12.5% increase in revenues at the Company's Sports & Leisure segment, and a $4.8 million, or 28.2% increase in revenues at the Company's Aerospace segment. The Company's Sports & Leisure business is seasonal, with historic trends of higher volumes of sales and profits during months from March through September. Sales at the Company's Sports & Leisure segment were $38.7 million for the quarter ended December 31, 2006, reflecting an improvement of $7.0 million, or 22.7%, in the Hein Gericke and PoloExpress retail operations, fueled by a 10% increase in same store sales, and approximately $3.0 million of improvements in the Euro relative to the U.S. dollar, partially offset by a $2.7 million decrease in sales at Fairchild Sports USA, which was significantly downsized. The Company's preliminary estimated operating loss was approximately $13.7 million for the quarter ended December 31, 2006, as compared to $9.1 million for the quarter ended December 31, 2005. The change reflected a $1.0 million improvement at the aerospace segment, offset by a $1.8 million decline in the Sports & Leisure segment, and a $3.8 million decline in the Corporate and Other Segment. The decline in the Corporate and Other segment was caused by a $4.1 million benefit for proceeds received from a legal settlement that occurred in the quarter ended December 31, 2005.

The Company recognized a $12.5 million gain on the disposal of discontinued operations in each of the quarters ended December 31, 2006 and December 31, 2005, due to $12.5 million of additional proceeds from an earn out associated with the 2002 sale of the fastener business to Alcoa. Subsequent to December 31, 2006, the Company will reverse approximately $29 million of tax liabilities from a tax year that closed in the quarter ended March 31, 2007, and show a reduction of $9.1 in Corporate debt obligations.

The Company is still waiting for its Auditors, KPMG LLP, to finalize its audit associated with the restatement of the three years ended September 30, 2006, so that the Company may issue its Annual Report for the year ended September 30, 2006 and file the quarterly report for the first quarter ended December 31, 2006.
